

A320 WORK CONTROL

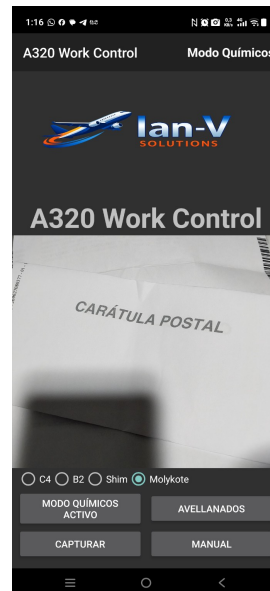

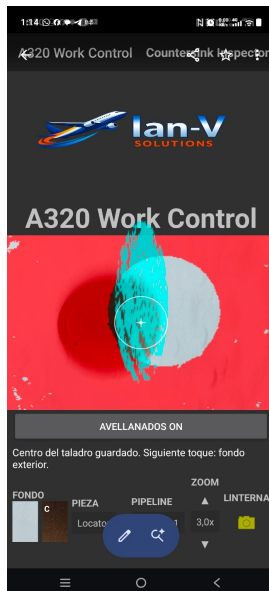

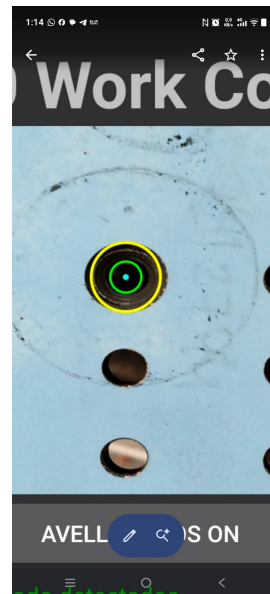

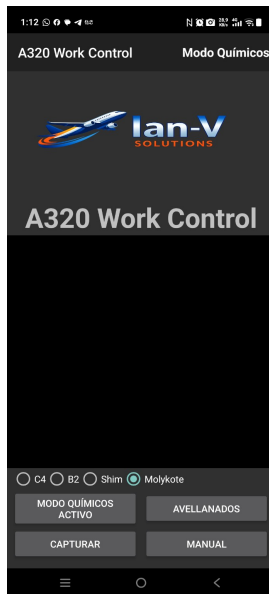

Professional Software Solutions

Category: Enterprise Software

Status: Functional Prototype – Active Development

Overview

A320 Work Control is one of the professional software solutions currently being developed within the MultiGames Hub ecosystem. The project focuses on creating intelligent software designed to improve workflow management, inspection processes and operational efficiency in professional environments. The current version is fully functional and continues to evolve through ongoing development and internal testing as part of the first V1 release. Only a limited preview of the project is presented at this stage.

Development Note

The screenshots shown correspond to the current internal development build. The application is under active development and testing. Some interfaces are currently displayed in Spanish because development is carried out in the creator's native language. The public release will be available in English with multilingual support.
